Website: <http://www.canadiantcslassociation.ca>

The Canadian Teaching Chinese as Second Language (TCSL) Association is a non-political, non-profit organization registered under the Societies Act of the Province of British Columbia since 2001. Its mission is to promote and advance the study and research of Chinese language pedagogy, Chinese linguistics, and Chinese culture and literature, as well as to facilitate collaboration and exchange among scholars and educators in the field.

The Association organizes annual conferences and other academic events to support the sharing of ideas, research findings, and teaching resources. In addition, it maintains a Canadian National TCSL Database, curates a repository of Chinese teaching resources, and supports study-in-Taiwan programs for Canadian postsecondary students. For more information, please visit: www.canadiantcslassociation.ca.

Membership is open to individuals who currently hold, or have previously held, teaching positions in Chinese language, linguistics, culture, or literature at schools, colleges, universities, or equivalent educational institutions. To learn more or to apply for membership, please visit: www.canadiantcslassociation.ca.
